DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Proprietor.

From the New York World.

REPUBLICAN ABSURDITIES.

In the Senatorial caucus on the proposition to print the President's Message, Mr. Wilson, the most moderate of the President's assailants, is reported by telegraph to have expressed himself as follows:

"Mr. Wilson characterized the message as an assault upon Congress for attempting to take from rebels in the South power which had been placed in their hands by the President, who had himself exercised in 1865 all the powers that Congress had exercised in 1867. The question before the country was the two policies: that of the President having placed the governments of the South in the hands of successful treason and the freedmen into a condition of servitude whose cry all the world heard but Andrew Johnson. Congress, after a deliberate investigation, had adopted the other policy of reconstruction, which after a full trial had resulted in peace and order all over those States. He read from the report of the Superintendent of the Freedmen's Bureau in Alabama, General Swayne, in support of his assertion. The one policy put the power in the hands of rebels, the other into the hands of loyal men. Congress would adhere to its policy, and it would be consummated, and between now and the next Fourth of July those States would be represented in Congress by loyal men. The President's message did contain a libel in saying the black men were not fit to exercise the franchise. The rebel papers and Wade Hampton took a different view when they wanted their votes. Though the black men had been threatened with dreadful evils if they did not vote with their old masters, they remained loyal and faithful, and had shown themselves capable to vote. Who ever said otherwise did slander them, and would yet be rebuked by their representatives in Congress. Then it would be seen who would libel them or push them out of these halls. He saw no reason, however, for refusing to print the message; it would soon appear before the country which was right."

The phrases we have printed in italics present the gist of the Republican argument against the policy of the President. It rests on the assumed absurdity of placing the government of the South in the hands of people who participated in the rebellion. Among the methods of exploding a false doctrine, perhaps none is more decisive than pointing out the consequences to which it logically leads. What leads to absurdity must be itself abated. Now, for the sake of the argument, we will admit that Mr. Wilson's fundamental postulate is correct; admit that men who have participated in a rebellion should not afterwards be admitted to any share in the government. Let us inquire how this doctrine will apply to future rebellions in parts of the country where slavery has not existed. The coexistence of slavery with a rebellion is an accident which can never occur again in this country to the end of time. Now let us suppose that after the completion of the Pacific R. R. the West should rebel, including the whole Pacific coast, and the States in the valley of the Upper Mississippi; the pretext being the onerous taxation to meet the demands of the bondholders. On second thoughts this supposition is too formidable—a rebellion which thoroughly united the people of the West could not be subdued. The vigorous, expansive West will soon become (if it be not already) the controlling power in our politics. Changing the location of our hypothesis, we will suppose the seat of a future rebellion to be New England, and its object resistance to a practical application of the principle of human equality reducing the Senatorial representation of those six States to an equality with that of the State of New York, which has about the same population. This would be a rebellion in support of State rights against a sweeping application of the Declaration of Independence. For if all men are equal, one man in New England should not count for as much as six in New York in the higher branch of the national legislature. We will suppose, then, that Mr. Wilson's own section should at some future time rebel against an attempt by the other States to make it drink out of its own favorite cup, and that the rebellion should be put down by the overpowering force of the federal armies. What would be done with the people after they had been subdued? According to Mr. Wilson's doctrine, which also is that of the Republican party, they should be kept in permanent military subjugation. Twist and writhe as he may, he cannot escape that conclusion. There would be no population of emancipated slaves on whom the government could be devolved; and we suppose it would be a little extravagant to borrow a hint from Gulliver and confer universal suffrage on all the male horses of adult age, and instate them in authority over the Yahoos. There would be a population who had all, or nearly all, participated in the rebellion, and there would remain the obligation imposed by the Constitution to guarantee a Republican form of government. Now if Mr. Wilson's doctrine be sound, how could this obligation be fulfilled? The doctrine is inconsistent with any pretence of re establishing republican government in a section of country which has rebelled.

If the whites of the South had been its only population, on what basis would the Republicans have proposed to reconstruct the States? This question goes to the heart of the subject; for a rebellion where slavery does not exist is as possible as where it does, and the Constitution holds but one language. Had there been no negroes in the South, reconstruction, according to Mr. Wilson's doctrine, would be impracticable, and by parity of reasoning, every future rebellion in other parts of the country will demolish republican government therein beyond all possibility of rebuilding it. It hence follows that the guarantee of republican government, which our fathers inserted in the Constitution, is a flat absurdity. A doctrine which leads to this consequence is untenable.

Everybody knows that when the war ended, the temper of the South was unexpectedly reasonable and submissive. If any testimony were needed on this point we could cite that of General Grant which has been repeatedly given—once in an official report, and once under oath. If this submissiveness on their side had been met with magnanimity on ours, the old sores would not have been re-opened, and we should have advanced at once into an era of good feeling and resuscitated confidence. But sordid party objects were made paramount to great national interests, and a state of things has been produced which fills every well-wisher of his country with anxiety. It is quite possible that the new negro governments may be accepted by Congress, as Mr. Wilson predicts, before the Fourth of July; but that will be only "the beginning of sorrows." The negro governments will not stand a day after they cease to be propped by federal bayonets, and the people will decide in November that the bayonets shall be withdrawn.

PETTICOATS IN THE LEAGUE.—Not long since—we do not know the exact date—a negro woman took it into her head to penetrate the mysteries of the League at Perote. After her husband had started to the darkies' lantern concern she put on an extra suit of his clothes and sought the place of meeting. She was successful in obtaining admission, and remained during the proceedings.—The husband, however, beat her home, and when she made her appearance of course explanation had to be made in regard to her assumption of the breeches. The whole truth came out, and through the husband reached the League. Death, by hanging, was decreed as the punishment of poor Mrs. Africa's curiosity, and a committee was appointed to execute the sentence. This was more fun than the husband wanted.—He reported to the military authority, praying that proceedings might be stayed.—Military turned the case over to the civil authorities here. Deputy Sheriff Wicker went on Tuesday last, we believe, to arrest the ringleaders. Resistance was made by other Leaguers, and the deputy sent a request to his chief, Sheriff Hall, to send a posse to his aid. Yesterday morning quite a "cavalry" company, gallant and gay, went hence to the rescue. Meantime the citizens of Perote and vicinity had rallied, and arrested twelve principals in the affair, whom they delivered here last night. The squad who brought up the prisoners report Africa in the neighborhood of Perote scared, demoralized, took to the swamp. No one hurt, and all quiet along Comcuh to date. —Union Springs Times, 30th.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1867.

DIVISION OF LABOR—GRAPE CULTURE.

One of the most certain means of recuperation in the South, and of affording employment to the labor we have, is the judicious division of that labor among various employments. The very large proportion of labor which has been devoted to the production of cotton in the South, is one of the chief causes of the present poverty and indebtedness of our people. This result is what we foresaw long ago, and we have often guarded our planters against the dangers which threatened the concentration of so much labor upon one article, which involved such heavy expense and which was so liable to blight and ruin from untoward seasons.

The climate and soil of North Carolina are adapted to the production of every article of commerce, except sugar and tropical fruits. A portion of the soil is as well adapted to cotton as any portion of the South. Rice may also be produced freely. No portion of the world exceeds parts of our State in the production of corn, peas and sweet potatoes, while other portions are not excelled in their capacity to produce wheat, rye, barley, oats and the grasses, along with cabbage, Irish potatoes, and every species of vegetable.

Now, could our entire people act wisely in this matter; and if, instead of giving way to despondency and depression and to talk of leaving the State, for "a better place," our farming people would seek to employ all the labor required, by retaining the oversight of the cultivation of all their lands, not in the production of one article, but of every article to which their lands are best adapted; or if they would, (which would be wiser,) employ small forces for the cultivation of a small farm well, and rent out their other lands, to be cultivated in the same way, and with a constant view to improvement, to those who would cultivate them in shares,—the result, we think, would be good.

Much has been said of the culture of the grape in this State. We have the greatest variety of native grapes to be found anywhere, and in no portion of the Union are the soil and climate better adapted to wine-making than here. At various times, within late years, we have heard of gentlemen intending to embark in this enterprise, and yet the public is but partially advised of the progress which has been made.

In this respect the Northern and Western States have far excelled us. Millions of gallons of wine are now made in Ohio, New Jersey, New York and some of the Western States. Even California produced 4,000,000 gallons of wine the past year. Certainly none of these States, in climate or soil, are superior to North Carolina for the grape culture. Many of our worn out fields, with a small outlay for manures, will produce the grape equal to any country, and the amount of capital and labor required is, perhaps, less than can be profitably employed in anything else.

The impression we find to be very general, that wine making can be made very profitable in North Carolina. Those who have made a trial of it would do great service to the public, if they would furnish to the public press full and correct statements of their own efforts, experience and results in grape culture and wine making. Mere essays and experiments upon this subject are not so desirable now as detailed statements of the plans of operation and their results from, gentlemen actually engaged in the business. Our people need stimulating, and nothing will do that so readily as actual experience.

A WHITE MAN'S PARTY.

"Our neighbors of the Sentinel, in spite of our remonstrances, would persist in their efforts to form a white man's party."—Register.

Our neighbors of the Register, in spite of our repeated denial that we either designed or desired the formation of a "white man's party," persist in a gross misrepresentation. Is the Register lost to all sense of fairness? Sentinel.

If our friend of the Sentinel does not desire the formation of a "white man's party," will he permit us ask him what kind of a party he is desirous of forming. The negroes have been organized into a solid party against the white people of the South, and for our part we can see no alternative but that of organizing a party to oppose them—and that party must be of white men.—Asheville News.

The allegation of the Register applied to our course prior to the late election in this State. Our rejoinder referred to the policy which we advocated during the same period.

Certainly, at that time, we neither desired nor designed the formation of parties based on race or color. We had hoped to be able to convince the negro that his true and real interests were identified with those of the people among whom he lived.

We are far from desiring, in the ordinary acceptation of that term, now, the formation of such parties, for the reason that we believe that it will result in the ultimate ruin of the negro, for whom we have, in his legitimate sphere, naught but feelings of kindness. By their folly and blindness, and under the teachings of a few renegade whites, however, they have formed a black man's party, as evidenced in the late elections; and there is now no alternative, as our cotemporary suggests, but that of organizing a party to oppose them—"and that party must be of white men."

A letter to the Herald says Secretary Seward is negotiating for the purchase of Cuba, and that the Spanish Government looks favorably towards the proposition.

THE NEXT YEAR.

Such has been the very general failure of cotton planters, the present year, to meet expenses, there is a disposition to abandon the policy adopted for the past two years, and to confine the operations of planting within the narrowest limits possible. As a general rule this line of policy will be forced upon the planters.

In this view, the prospects of the colored population are especially deplorable. Those of them, who have congregated in the towns, already find it difficult to obtain employment. But if there should be an influx of colored persons into the towns, on account of the scarcity of labor on the farms, what is to become of them, unless new sources of employment are devised? If we had capital in the country to establish factories, open mines or build new Railroads, these people might find employment, but, in the absence of capital, under the present discouragements, there must be a dead lock to enterprise of all kinds.

The condition of our planters is not imaginary. If our colored population had the energy and the disposition to labor, which many have not, and if they were sufficiently reliable and trustworthy to justify our land owners to rent them lands, still the fact is palpable, that, having exhausted their wages, they will be unable to procure provisions upon which to make a crop.—More than this, the provisions are not to be had in the country, and can only be obtained for the cash.

The sources of employment, therefore, in our present condition, are necessarily greatly lessened both in town and country, and we should regret to see laborers, either white or colored, coming into this State seeking employment for the next year.—We have heard, within a few days past, that negroes from Virginia, and, perhaps, from South Carolina, are coming to this State to obtain employment. The number is likely to increase, unless proper efforts are made to give them information.

The North Western States, perhaps, afford the best prospect for profitable employment for laborers, without the means to purchase lands. Working people, who have means to buy lands and carry on a good system of agriculture, can, perhaps, do better in North Crrolina than any where else, but laborers without means seeking employment had better go elsewhere.

THE QUESTION FAIRLY STATED.

A Missouri Democrat, in a letter to the New York World, objects to the compromise recently proposed by that paper, to have a conference from all the States and for the South to assent to qualified negro suffrage as a means of settlement of our national difficulties. The World explains that it did so in a spirit of compromise, but says:

"As the Republicans scorn the suggestion there is no reason why anybody else should consider it. They refuse to capitulate on conditions. Nothing remains but to storm their works and exercise all the rights of conquerors."

The World had previously stated the true position of the Democrats and Conservatives on negro suffrage. It says:

"What we have to offer on negro suffrage is soon said. Democrats are free to hold any opinion they please on the abstract question. The Democratic party is a State Rights party; and if the people of every State in the Union should settle the suffrage question in a different way, neither other States nor the Federal government have any right to call them to account. The fundamental doctrine of the Democratic party in relation to the suffrage is, that its regulation belongs solely to the States, and that it is an impudent outrage upon their rights for other States to assume to intermeddle. Whoever holds this doctrine is a sound Democrat on the suffrage question.—Whenever this doctrine is accepted by Congress, the Democracy, as a national party, has no further battles to fight on the suffrage. The moment the people of each State are permitted, without question, to decide it for themselves, it will disappear from general politics, and dwindle to a local topic."

Of course the question should be left entirely to the white people of the States and to none others. Their action in that matter should be entirely free from all restraint or compulsion. Until that is done, it is non sense to talk of Republican government.

VIRGINIA SENTIMENT.—The Alexandria Gazette says the resolutions passed at all the Conservative meetings held in Virginia breathe the same spirit—which is allegiance to the Government—a desire to support the Constitution—an acquiescence in the abolition of slavery—and a wish for peace, quiet and reconstruction on constitutional principles. With equal determination they all express their opposition to Radical rule—to the subjection politically of the white race to the black race—and to ultra schemes and measures designed to keep alive discord and civil strife, and prevent the future prosperity of the Southern people. What more ought reasonable men, what more ought patriotic Union men, to require?

THE AMENDMENTS TO THE TENNESSEE FRANCHISE LAW.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 5.

The bill, which removes all disabilities for holding office or sitting on juries on account of color or race, passed its second reading in the House, after an excited discussion of three days, by the decisive vote of 50 to 25.

THE MISSISSIPPI CONVENTION.

Special Dispatch to the Washington Star.

VICKSBURG, Dec. 5.—There is now no doubt that the Convention has been carried in Mississippi.

[Or any other State. It is a part of the programme that the Convention shall always be carried; and carried it is. Great is military rule.]

The Montgomery correspondent of the New York Herald says that one of the delegates to Pope's Convention in that city, was released by that valiant warrior from jail in order that he might take his seat in that body.

BOSTON, Dec. 8.—Mr. Dickens closed his present series of readings in Boston to-night with his story of "Little Dorrit" and the "Trial" from Pickwick. Tremont Temple was crowded and the audience fully as demonstrative of delight as at his previous readings.

THE CAPITOL TO-DAY—DEFEAT OF IMPEACHMENT.

The impeachment question being first in order in the House, it came up immediately after the reading of the Journal, when Mr. Logan renewed the filibustering process commenced yesterday afternoon. After several votes on dilatory motions, which were invariably voted down, he proposed that if Mr. Wilson would withdraw the demand for the previous question on the motion to lay the impeachment resolution on the table, and allow a direct vote to be taken on its passage, all factious opposition would be withdrawn. This being agreed to by unanimous consent, the yeas and nays were ordered on the resolution impeaching the President. The Clerk was about to commence calling the roll when the Speaker announced that any demonstration of approval or disapproval of the result of the vote, on the part of the spectators, would be promptly punished. At ten minutes of one o'clock the roll call commenced. Profound silence prevailed on the floor and in the galleries, (which, by the way, were only about half filled.) As the call progressed it became apparent that the resolution would be defeated by a large majority; and the result—yeas, 57; nays, 108—fully justified this conclusion. Upon the announcement of the vote by the Speaker there were neither manifestations of applause nor disapprobation on the floor or in the galleries. An analysis of the vote shows that the fifty seven members who voted in the affirmative were all ultra Republicans, while in the negative there were sixty eight Republicans and forty Democrats, with nineteen members absent or not voting, viz: Messrs. Blair, (Mich.,) Cake, (Pa.,) Cornell, (N. Y.,) Finney, (Pa.,) Jenckes, (R. I.,) Kitchen, (West Va.,) Mallory, (Oregon,) Moore, (N. J.,) Morrell, (Pa.,) Pomeroy, (N. Y.,) Ramn, (Ind.,) Schofield, (Pa.,) Selye, (N. Y.,) Taffe, (Nebraska,) and Van Horn, (N. Y.,) Republicans, and Barnes, Fox, Morrissey, and Wood, of New York, Democrats. A list of the yeas and nays will be found in our Congressional column. —Wash. Evening Express, 7th.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.

Immediately after the reading of the Journal in the House to-day the impeachers exhibited a disposition to again resort to filibustering, or forcing their opponents to yield to the demand for further discussion of the question of impeachment. From a comparison of views, privately, it was found that each party was as determined as the other, and that filibustering would continue to the end of the fortieth Congress unless some compromise could be made in the mean time. Under the impression that many Republicans who would vote for laying the subject upon the table would not dare to vote squarely against the impeachment of the President, the impeachers proposed that if the motion to lay on the table should be withdrawn, and a vote taken directly upon the merits of the case, they would cease further filibustering. This proposition was at once accepted by the Republicans who opposed impeachment, and a vote being taken, resulted in 57 in favor of impeaching the President and 108 against. If a full House had been present the impeachers would have had 60 votes and the opposition 124. During the call of names to-day the most profound interest was manifested by members and spectators. As each member's name was called, eyes were directed to him until he responded to his name. No noisy demonstration was made, but never was a scene in Congress more impressive, and sensational nevertheless; and when the result of the vote was declared all seemed to breathe freer, and all felt as though a heavy weight had been taken off the body politic.

There is general rejoicing to-night, and members of Congress are calling on the President to offer congratulations. Mr. Johnson behaves with exceeding good taste and becoming dignity under the circumstances.—Telegram to Rich. Dispatch.

RIGHTS OF MARRIED WOMEN.—In the Court of Appeals, at Louisville, an important decision has just been made affecting the marital rights of women, and holding that a husband cannot control or open a wife's private correspondence. The following is part of the decision:

"Nor would we admit that in this age and country a husband's rightful authority gives him during marriage dominion over his wife's chaste and friendly correspondence—not affecting his rights; nor that in all the plenitude of his marital power he could, without her free consent, take from her, or destroy, or in any way control the possession or gift of such letters. Any such ungracious interference with her confidential correspondence would impair social confidence and disturb domestic peace, and ought not to be encouraged by the judiciary especially as it could do him no other good than to gratify a jealous and prying curiosity. According to befitting decorum, and in every valuable sense, such letters, written to her to keep and read and cherish, are hers; and if she, for reasons satisfactory to her own taste and judgment, choose not to give or show them to her husband, she has a right to keep them to herself as her own inviolable property—and a confiding wife will never withold from a true husband her confidential letters without good and sufficient reason.

The existing code of both British and American law recognizes the personal individuality and moral responsibility of wives, and consequently guarantees their freedom of thought and interchange of sentiment. Their ideas are their own; their emotions their own, and their affections their own. Here and now a husband must not be a tyrant, and ought not to be a spy on his wife, who is neither his slave nor his mistress; but should always be his free and equal companion."

There is complaint in various parts of the South that the negroes, after having raised the cotton, refuse to pick it. The black rascals deserve to be tarred and feathered and left to pick themselves at leisure.—Louisville Journal.

Beg pardon; we think it is the white rascals, demoralizing the negroes, that deserve to be tarred and feathered. And they are heavy on "pickings."—Nashville Gazette.

THE WHITED SEPULCHRE.—The Boston Post says: "Crime is terribly prevalent in New England. Every few days our staid cities and quiet towns are startled by some deed of blood, some revelation of beastliness or of rascality. Our Southern brethren, living in the midst of anarchy and turmoil, might with reason sneer at the morality of New England as shown in its daily reports of crime."

Governor Haight prophesies that the child is now living who will see California populated with twenty millions, and San Francisco a city with two millions of inhabitants.

The negroes of the Union League in Nankin county, Ga., are bound by an oath to defend each other in hog stealing. One stolen hog has in consequence got nine good Radical voters in jail.

The Boston papers compliment the delicacy of the sculptor of the Everett statue in making it look so much unlike its subject that no regretful reminiscences can be awakened in anybody by contemplating it.

LOUISIANA RECONSTRUCTION CONVENTION, &c.

NEW ORLEANS, December 7.—In the Convention to-day, while discussing the preamble and resolutions denying the statements contained in a memorial to Congress expressing the fear of a war of races, a negro member named Cromwell declared: "We will rule till the last one of us goes down forever. The negroes are going to have their rights, if it is by revolution and the blood spilled of Andy Johnson or any other man. He was ready for revolution." Pinchback, another negro member, deprecated the remarks of Cromwell, and declared that the colored people of this country could get no rights the whites did not see fit to give them, and that the talk of a war of races was all humbug. He alluded to the disparity of the negroes compared with the other race. The slaveholders of the South had been in the past, and were still, friends of the negro.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT AT THE BRIGHT HOPE PITS—A MINER DASHED TO PIECES—SIMULTANEOUS SUDDEN DEATH OF THE WIFE OF THE VICTIM.—A fearful and shocking accident occurred on Friday evening last at the Bright Hope coal pits, in Chesterfield county. The unfortunate victim, Mr. John Weatherman, was standing on a platform about six hundred feet below the surface, his duty being to unhitch the empty descending car and to place in the iron cage the one just loaded. Weatherman was standing by to perform this duty, when he was warned from above to look out for an empty car, which was descending with fearful rapidity. It is supposed that he did not hear the cry, and in a moment more the ponderous car, in its iron cage, struck him with full force. He was knocked from the platform, and thence fell a hundred feet lower, to the bottom of the shaft. When his fellow workmen descended they only found his mangled and lifeless remains.

We understand that at the time Mr. Weatherman met his death a messenger was on his way to the pits with the intelligence of the sudden death of his wife, who resides in Manchester.

Mr. Greeley recently wrote to Senator Wilson to exert his influence to restrain the Alabama Convention from adopting extreme measures. Senator Wilson writes General Swayne that the policy pursued by the Convention in legislating for divorces, and in other ways transcending their authority, and the ultra speeches of Mr. Bingham and men of that class, is doing great injury to reconstruction, and bringing odium on the Republican party.—Telegraph to the Times.

This is one result of the late elections. But pray why did not Messrs. Greeley and Wilson think of this matter before? All that the Alabama Convention has done was, in the main, predicted by the Democratic presses and orators, yet then these gentlemen pooh-poohed all that was said. If they and their retainers are honest men, they will confess outright that the Congressional miscalled reconstruction scheme is a swindle from first to last, and that it, rather than the conduct of a few fanatics in Alabama, is "doing great injury to reconstruction and bringing odium on the Republican party."—N. Y. World.

There is something so repulsive to the American mind, so antagonistic to the genius, the spirit and the manifest destiny of our political and social system, in this thing of a Southern negro balance of power, especially as it is established on white disfranchisements, that it cannot last. It is a compound of Asiatic despotism and African barbarism so monstrous that its first submission to the general verdict of the country will result in a judgment decreeing the authority and the instruments for its overthrow. Put it to the test, and the majority of fifty thousand against negro suffrage in Ohio, for example, will be maintained against this experiment of a Southern balance of power in Congress and our Presidential elections, resting upon universal negro suffrage and white disfranchisements. And so it will be in New York and throughout the North, excepting, perhaps, only Vermont and Massachusetts.—N. Y. Herald.

RUMORED ALLIANCE BETWEEN THE ROYAL HOUSES OF SPAIN AND AUSTRIA.—Rumor has it that a marriage alliance is about to take place between the Archduke Louis Victor, the younger brother of the Emperor of Austria, and the eldest daughter of the Queen of Spain. What gives significance to this rumor is that the Spanish heir apparent, the Prince of the Austrias, is said to be in singularly delicate health, and that after him the Infanta Maria Isabella is next in succession. It would be strange, indeed, if the natural revolution of events should again unite and bring under a Hapsburg government Spain and Austria.—N. Y. Herald.

We are glad to see that the House of Representatives is still to enjoy the invaluable services of Rev. Mr. Boynton as chaplain. It is that gentleman's habitual practice to thank the Almighty pretty regularly for whatever may have been done in Congress which accords with his own views of political and party propriety, and in this way the members are properly posted as to his opinion of their acts. As the chaplain has no other mode of making political speeches in the House, not being a member thereof, it is exceedingly clever in him to have discovered so excellent a dodge. We observed that in yesterday's opening prayer he offered a resolution of thanks for the establishment of universal negro suffrage.—N. Y. Times.

We understand that several of our oldest and most respectable citizens called upon Gen. Hancock yesterday in a friendly way, and that they were very cordially received. Of those who called was Gen. Braxton Bragg, who asked Gen. H. if he would like to confer with members of the Howard Association upon matters pertaining to the public health. The General readily expressed his desire so to do, and the Association will accordingly visit him in a body some day this week.—N. O. Crescent, 3rd.

THE COTTON TAX.—The tax on raw cotton was two cents per pound until August 1, 1866, when it was increased to three cents. In September, 1867, it was again reduced a half cent per pound, the tax being two and a half cents. In 1866 the amount realized by the government from this source was $18,409,664 90, and in 1867 $23,769,078 80—the latter amount substantially representing the product of the year, namely, two million bales.

The Charleston Courier thinks the Convention is carried by a majority of some five thousand.

A Well-deserved Success—The Equitable Life Insurance Company.

The approaching demolition of seven buildings, consisting of that almost immemorial landmark, "Old Guerrin's," the less ancient "Standinger's," and the present office-building of the American Express Company, on the Southeast corner of Broadway and Cedar street, together with three adjoining buildings on the latter street, is attributable to that modern insurance giant, the Equitable. These seven buildings are all to be replaced by one, splendid edifice, including basement, and having a frontage of 86 feet 9 inches on Broadway, and one hundred and thirty-seven feet four inches on Cedar street. A number of the first architects in the country are engaged in perfecting plans for the structure, so as to make it in style, accommodation, and convenience, superior to any other building of the kind yet erected.

The building will, however, not only be made to accommodate the Company, but as arranged that the rental of such part as is not occupied by them will return an interest on the investment.—The magnitude and surpassing growth of the Equitable Life not only justify this solid investment, but render it both expedient and necessary. Although this Company has been only eight years in business, its policies issued during its eighth year covered an insurance amounting to over thirty-five millions of dollars. The total sum assured by it up to the present date approaches 100,000,000; its accumulations have run up to 5,000,000; its annual income to three millions, and will in the ensuing year doubtless expand to five million dollars.

For this rapid increase and substantial success there are abundant and most satisfactory reasons. They are found in the numerous solid advantages the Company affords. In the fact that it is purely mutual, and that all its profits go to the insured on the first of February, every year, at which time a large dividend has been regularly paid, amounting last year to six hundred thousand dollars. Its mode of applying dividends so as to accommodate them to the circumstances of the policy holders, is unequalled for the variety of the advantages it offers.

The Equitable has been enabled to deal thus liberally with its insured in consequence of the prosperity of its business and the thriftiness of its management. The percentage of its "total out go," compared with its cash premium receipts, was less in 1866 than that of any older Company. Its policies average larger in amount than those of any rival institution. It insures on a single life any sum from $250 to $25,000, and issues all the most desirable non-forfeiting policies. All its policies are, however, comparatively new, and it is therefore carrying but few impaired lives. Its percentage of losses, to amount at risk, which is much less than that of older Companies, establish this fact. The Equitable is, indeed, full of vitality and progressive strength, and is regarded as the most successful and—taking into consideration its age—the largest Life Insurance Company in the world.

NEW MOVEMENT IN LIFE INSURANCE.

We learn that some of the cash companies of this City have decided to adopt a uniform scale of premiums to take effect after the close of the present year, with a view to greater simplicity and uniformity in their business. These rates have been carefully deduced from American experience, and will be more accurate and satisfactory than those hitherto used, which were based upon English statistics. The Mutual, Equitable, Washington, Widows and Orphans, Standard, and one or two other companies, have entered into this desirable arrangement. We learn also that these companies have decided to establish a system by which their rejections and other points relating to medical examination and statistics, will be made known to each other and mutual benefit derived. The contribution plan of dividend has been adopted by the companies named.

There are many other points in life insurance, both theoretical and practical, upon which companies conducted upon the general principles can unite for mutual aid and advantage, and yet preserve their individual idiosyncracies and independence in all other respects. Such, we learn, is the leading idea governing the proposed union, which cannot fail to be attended with favorable results.

DR. J. J. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir—Please send me immediately per Express to Tarboro, two dozen more bottles of your Rosadalis. I have carefully examed its Formula, and have used it in my practice in a number of cases. I am well pleased with it. I think it, beyond doubt, the best Alterative I ever used. I have tried it in several cases of Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, &c., with much satisfaction to myself and patients. I have also used it in Secondary and Tertiary Syphilis, for a terrible case of eight years' standing, in which it acted with surprising and satisfactory effect—making a quick and thorough cure. I have, therefore, no hesitation in recommending it to Physicians and others, as the most reliable Alterative now known.
Respectfully yours, &c.,

A Wonderful Cure of Scrofulous White Swelling.

HOME CERTIFICATE.

I hereby certify, that last September I was attacked with White Swelling of the left knee—and also with an enlargement of the glands of the neck—[one tumor reached a large size.] The swelling of the knee was enormous, and was attended with the most excruciating pains. I was so reduced that I was confined to my room over three months. My leg was so completely drawn up, that I could not bend it at all. I tried various remedies, and they failed to give me any relief. I was in this condition when I commenced taking Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis. The swelling in the knee and neck began to subside before I took all of the first bottle. By the time I took the second bottle, the swelling of the neck entirely disappeared and that of the knee nearly so. After taking three bottles I found myself completely well—able to walk as well as ever, &c.

Certificate from an old and much respected citizen of Greene County, now a resident of Wilson, N. C.

I hereby certify that, during the summer and fall of 1866, that I was severely afflicted with Carbuncles—having had as many as fourteen large Carbuncles, and twelve ordinary Boils. I suffered so much from them that I could not get out of the house half the time for several months. Being induced to try Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis, I was entirely cured by the use of one bottle of that truly valuable medicine.

Consumption, in its Early Stages, can be Cured.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 6th, 1867.
Dear Dr. Lawrence—My daughter having been cured of a deeply seated disease of the lungs by your "Rosadalis," I feel it my duty to make the fact known to you for the benefit of others. She suffered nearly two years with a hard cough, which troubled her day and night; at last the emaciated form, glossy eye, night sweats, together with the cough, told too plainly that it was Consumption, beyond question, eating at her vitals. Our Physician's remedies brought no relief. She was advised to try your Rosadalis, as a tonic—which she did—imagine my surprise and gratification, when I found her appetite returning. Slowly she regained her strength, her cough

MAYOR'S COURT.—Tuesday—Martha Taborn, colored, charged with making an assault upon Major Hinton Chappell, white, was required to give a bond and security to be of good behavior, and, in the meantime, to keep the peace, especially towards the Major.

BELL RINGING.—His Honor, the Mayor of the City, requests us to state that, at the request of citizens, the City Bell will be struck every morning hereafter at 9 o'clock, except on Sundays.

GWYNN, COTTEN & Co.—We have been pleased to meet with Mr. Walter Gwynn, of the enterprising and reliable firm of Gwynn, Cotten & Co., Baltimore, who is at present in this City, and sojourning at the Yarborough House. Mr. G. is soliciting consignments of naval stores, cotton, and all kinds of produce. Our people have no better market, as they well know, for middling cotton, than Baltimore, and no finer one for obtaining plantation supplies; and a house representing our own State, as does that of Messrs. Gwynn, Cotten & Co., ought justly to receive their patronage.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.—The black-Radical meeting at the Court House, on Monday night, from all accounts, was a sweet mess. But ten or fifteen whites relieved the raven blackness of the concern.—"Speeches" were made by uncle Handy Lockett, and Jno. Bower, (not a citizen of Raleigh,) Friday Jones and Capt. Tim. F. Lee, uncle Henry Hunter and Mr. Jo. Holden, the colored "Doctor" and Mr. C. M. Farriss. Mr. Josh. Andrews presided, artistically.

A Committee was appointed to suggest the names of municipal officers, to be forwarded to Gen. Canby, with a petition for their appointment, in lieu of the present incumbents, and the following recommendations were accordingly made:

Mayor—C. M. Farriss (11).

Commissioners for the Eastern Ward: S. B. Craven, negro, Jo. King and Jim Bush, white.

Middle Ward: H. Hasselbach and A. S. Lougee, whites, and A. Farrow, negro.

Western Ward: N. Dunston, negro, and P. Overby and Sylvanus Beasley, whites.

It is needless to say that there is no necessity for any change in our present municipal administration, though it is plainly their duty to reduce the taxes of the city. We are sure that the Commandant of the Post, under whose immediate supervision, as it were, they act, will bear testimony to the general fidelity with which our City officials have discharged their duties. But if there were ever so great a necessity for a change, the ticket named above is one that does not commend itself to the property-holders of the city and those who are most interested in a good government. There are two or three persons named in the list, who would not be unacceptable, if they were associated with others like themselves, but we speak of the ticket, as it is presented, as a whole. Taken as such, it becomes the earnest duty of all good citizens to protest against the outrage. More anon.

A DISCIPLE OF ESCULAPIUS.—Among the speakers at the black-Radical meeting, at the Court House, on Monday night, was a colored "Doctor," who hails from Africa, and professes, we understand, to be able to "cure all the ills that (darkey, flesh is heir to." He was also booked for a Lecture, last evening, at Tupper's church, on physiology, pathology and several other ologies,—all for twenty-five cents; ten cents more than was charged for Font Taylord's erudite lucubrations. The "Doctor" in question is the same individual who is referred to in the following extract from the Petersburg Index, of Nov. 17th.:

"A Muss.—There was a large crowd at the Court House yesterday morning. It seems that a negro, who represents himself as recently from Africa, has been in the city for some time practicing medicine and lecturing to his fellow-citizens, during which time he has incurred the ill will of sundry individuals of his own race, who have come to the conclusion that he is no better than he should be. He claims the name of Alfred Eddy, and says that he is a regularly educated physician of 51 years standing, though from his appearance he would not be taken to be that number of years old. The complaint against him was, that he was swindling the weak brethren and sisters, and for this, certain of their friends warned him to leave the city. Yesterday morning a large crowd accompanied him and his baggage to the depot to enforce his departure. From this compulsory mode of leaving he appealed to the Mayor for protection. His Honor told the committee that they were acting unlawfully, and that he would protect the Doctor so long as he was violating no law, and that if he were acting otherwise he must be proceeded against according to law—that no number of people had the right to say who should or who should not remain in town. The more reasonable of the crowd admitted this to be the correct view to take of the matter, and the Doctor was permitted to go unmolested.

If he is the cheat and imposter which his opponents say that he is, they have only to let him alone, and as soon as he finds that he can make nothing out of them, he will seek a new location to pluck the green ones."

"ROGER GRAHAME" contributes a touching and sprightly original poem, which will be found on our fourth page, this morning.

There is now living at Lake Amelia, Lake county, Minnesota, a Mrs. Judkins, who was born in 1764, and is consequently now 103 years of age. She is in full possession of her faculties, and does the housework for a large family.

The proposition to divide Texas into two or more States, by act of Congress, does not meet with general favor among Congressmen, and it is not believed the proposed bill can pass the House.

GOOD HIT.—Mr. Dixon, of Connecticut, closed a speech in the Senate on Wednesday by reminding Senators that according to General Grant the will of the people is the supreme law of the land.

A New Haven paper says many men are out of employment in that city now than before within the last ten years, and that the leading manufacturers are reducing their forces.

The first cargo of emigrants direct from Germany arrived in Charleston, S. C., on Thursday last. They were 152 in number, and the citizens were much excited over the matter.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10, P. M.

Senate.—A memorial from the New York Chamber of Commerce, relative to the resumption of specie payments, was referred to the Committee on Finance.

The President was called on for the correspondence relative to the recognition of belligerent rights by Great Britain to the Confederacy

Mr. Wilson introduced his bill removing the political disabilities from 248 Alabamians.

Mr. Doolittle gave notice that he would introduce an amendment to the reconstruction acts, providing that all persons offering to vote on the adoption of the Constitutions, who do not possess the qualifications required by the State prior to the rebellion, shall possess one of three qualifications:

First, Service in the army of the United States at least one year.

Second, Ability to read and understand the nature of an oath.

Third, The possession of $250 free hold, in his own or wife's right.

This was offered as an amendment to Mr. Wilson's bill, making a majority of the voters, instead of a majority of those registered, necessary to carry the Constitution.

Mr. Wilson said that he did not know that it would be necessary to press his bill.

Mr. Davis said that this was a white man's government, and ever would be. The freemen of this country would never consent to have a President forced on them by negro electoral votes. He wanted this issue to come quickly, and invited Wilson to press on with his bills!

Mr. Stewart said that negro suffrage would not be the issue next fall, and proceeded to define the reconstruction acts.

Mr. Doolittle's amendment was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Drake's concurrent resolution, censuring the President for the language used towards Congress in the message, came up, and Drake, in an elaborate speech, assailed the President bitterly. In the course of his remarks, alluding to the negro voters, he said that they are now as much superior to the white trash around them, as the white trash was superior to the negro when he was in slavery.

The matter was made the special order for Thursday.

House.—The Speaker announced the Reconstruction Committee, which was reconstated by yesterday's action, to consist of Stevens, Boutwell, Bingham, Farnsworth, Hulburd, Brainaidl, Paine, Brooks and Beck,—but two Democrats.

Mr. Stevens' confiscation bill of last session came up. There were several speeches in opposition and the matter was postponed to the 21st. of January.

A concurrent resolution was adopted, to adjourn from the 20th. inst. to the 6th. of January.

FROM WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10, P. M

The House Committee on Foreign affairs are about presenting a bill with the following provisions:

1st. That this Government does not recognize the doctrine of natural allegiance.

2nd. That a person of foreign birth, naturalized according to our laws, acquires all the rights and privileges of a native born citizen, ex pt such as are denied by the Constitution in prescribing the qualifications for President and Vice President.

3rd. The United States owes the same protection to its naturalized citizens as to the native born.

Gen. Bradley and Judge Humphreys are included in Wilson's restoration lists.

The Southern Railroad Committee resumed work to-day.

The Union League in Philadelphia adopted a resolution, last night, nominating Grant for the Presidency.

The London Times praises the House for refusing to impeach the President.

GEORGIA CONVENTION.

ATLANTA, Dec. 10, P M.

The Convention re-assembled at noon, J. D. Dunning in the chair.

Dunning stated as Blodgett was elected temporary chairman, yesterday, and was not present, he would vacate the chair in favor of that gentleman. There being no objection, Blodgett took the chair and read a long address, evidently prepared with the expectation of his being President. The resolution requiring the candidates to state their views on the relief question was tabled, and the Convention proceeded to the election of a President viva voce, which resulted as follows:—J. R. Parrott, of Bartow, 103, Dunning 46, and Erwin 2. The election is regarded as a triumph of the more Conservative wing.

Parrott, in his address, said, above all things the Convention should do nothing to throw additional obstacles in the way of the Republican party, or to put weapons in the hands of their enemies. His address was partizan, but not ultra.

P. M. Shichly, a loyal Leaguer, was elected Secretary, and A. E. Marshall, of Monroe, assistant secretary.

Pending the election for President, an outside negro, who attempted to vote in the place of an absent member, was discovered, brought to the Bar, and put out as an intruder.

J. F. Sanders, Smithfield,	5,000
Castine Doscher, Wilmington,	5,000

A very serious question for a Husband and Father to ask himself, is, Should I be taken away to-morrow, would my family be provided for as I wish them to be? The Ætna Company is one of the oldest institutions of this country, and by taking a Policy here you provide a certainty.

That which has made this Company such a favorite and so popular, is the low rate and prompt payment of all demands.

DAILY SENTINEL.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1867.

For the Sentinel

"Etiam lacrymæ memorabunt."—VIRGIL.

As I walk in the light of the moon,
Humming some treasured tune,
I think of the times,
When nursery rhymes
Seemed to me the dearest and sweetest of chimes,
In the precious long ago.

As I walk in the light of the moon,
In this air, like a balmy June,
I dream of those days,
When in childish plays,
Youth's hours fled fast in such happy ways,
In the precious long ago.

I dream of those cherished joys,
Dear Ned, when we were boys,
And I wonder when,
Now, since we are men,
We ever will have such fun as then,
In the precious long ago.

We were eating our white bread then,
We may never eat it again;
Our faces were fair,
Our lots is free from care,
There was nothing so grand as to chase an old hare,
In the precious long ago.

How we hated the Latin and Greek
To write compositions and speak;
How we wished we could talk,
And how oft in our walk,
Would we plan to hide switches or throw away chalk,
In the precious long ago.

We thought those were hard times, Ned;
We prayed that our youth were sped,
That in manhood's joys,
We might cease to be boys,
And would find toil pleasanter far than toys,
In the precious long ago.

We have seen such times since then,
That tried the mettle of men;
And these eyes fill with tears,
As I think of the years,
We fought with such hopes, and flung away fears.
Oh! it seems so long ago.

Once more in the light of this moon,
I hear the clank of dragoon,
The clatter of camp,
The monotonous tramp,
The crackling of fires, where the ground was damp,
In the times not long ago.

I hear that soul-thrilling shout!
I see the charge, and the rout!
The bayonet's flash,
The musketry crash,
The booming of cannon,—the cavalry dash—
It seems but a moment ago!

In vain!—Was it all in vain?
The struggle the prayer the pain?
Their deeds and their dust,
(Oh! sacred Trust!)
Are left in our keeping, and guard them we must,
As the years may come and go.

With ceaseless vigil they stand,
Our holy sentinel band,—
And the accents that tell
Of the brave who fell,
Must sing of true woman's devotion as well,
In the precious long ago.

Yet my thoughts will revert to the life,
Happy days! spent before this strife,
When in summer shade,
We so coyly played,
With the village school girls, half glad, half afraid,
In the precious long ago.

I dream of the shy sweet eyes,
That gleamed with a glad surprise,
When they met my gaze,
Fixed in love's strange maze,
While my heart beat fast, and my eyes would haze,
In the precious long ago.

She is happier now, I know,
As she sleeps where the violets blow;
For her "life was hid"
With Him, at whose bid,
She sings a song sweeter than ever she did
In the precious long ago!

ROGER GRAHAME.

A man in a West Virginia county was recently elected a school trustee, who could neither read nor write. It was incumbent on him to take a census of all the children in his district; he could not write—how should he do it? Their names he could not give, but he could give the number and the sex, by an ingenious method, of his own. He filled his breeches pockets with red and white beans, and when he came to a boy, he registered him by putting a red bean in one side pocket of his coat, and when to a girl, by putting a white one in a pocket on the other side; so, when he got through, he could thus tell the number of "gals and boys" in the bailiwick.

GENERAL SHERIDAN.—The New Orleans "Republican," (radical,) in a recent article in relation to Gen. Hancock, thus refers to Gen. Sheridan:

"General Hancock proved himself one of the ablest, as well as one of the most fortunate commanders in the national service. A severer test of his abilities is now about to be applied to him. He succeeds General Sheridan, who, with all his brilliant military reputation, ignominiously failed in his civil administration of this district. Sheridan left Louisiana without a friend among the loyal or disloyal."

Lady Margaret Herbet asked somebody for a pretty pattern for a night cap.—"Well," said the person, "what signifies the pattern of a night-cap?" "O! child," said she, "you know in case of fire!"

An organization of Southern ladies in reduced circumstances has been formed at Houston, to do sewing, and has undertaken several large contracts.

'Woman is a delusion, madam!' exclaimed a crusty old bachelor to a witty young lady. "And man is always hugging some delusion or other," was the quick retort.

"Shrouds have no pockets," remarked a clergyman in a sermon on the vanity of earthly riches.

The Mobile Tribune reports a fight between Andrew Jackson and Henry Clay—both gentlemen of color—and says "there seems to be some ill-feeling existing between these two great individuals."

THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

This Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine

IS OFFERED TO THE Public as a ready, certain and speedy means of preventing LARGE CONFLAGRATIONS.

Until the invention of the

Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine,

Fires have been met by means too slow, too late and too cumbrous. But few persons in this country have the advantage of large hand or Steam Fire Engines, and those few often suffer a total loss of their property by reason of the great length of time consumed in sending for and getting them into working order.

BUT NOT SO WITH THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER,

which, being kept charged and standing in your House, Store or Factory, is always Ready for Instant Service.

The fire can be extinguished and your property saved without loss or damage, or even an alarm of Fire.

The first few minutes of conflagration decide the fate of the property; "a little fire is quickly put out, which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench."

THE EXTINGUISHER, being very simple in its operation, and entirely self-propelling, requires no previous skill or practice to operate it, and being so light, portable and self-acting, is capable of being used in any place, by any person, male or female.

It puts out all fires, arising from whatever cause.

You are saved from the immense water damage caused by large Engines.

You can effect insurance on your property

At Lower Rates,

if protected by the Extinguisher.

The Extinguisher is no humbug, as thousands of good men in Europe and America will testify. I have already put these little Engines into some of our best Factories and largest Schools in N. C.

No House, Store, Factory or Corporation is safe without them.

The price is as nothing, compared with the protection they afford.

Send for a Circular.
